Synthesis Microfest II Returns to Miami, AZ, with an Expanded Roster of Experimental Electronic Music

MIAMI, AZ — December 23, 2025 — Low Key Organic, in collaboration with esteemed local music venue, Thee 23 Skidoo, is thrilled to announce Synthesis Microfest II, a two-night mini-festival celebrating the avant-garde and experimental edges of electronic music. Following the tremendous popularity and success of the inaugural Synthesis Microfest I in January 2025, the 2026 event promises an expanded sonic journey on Friday, January 23 and Saturday, January 24, 2026, at Thee 23 Skidoo in Miami, Arizona.

Synthesis Microfest II builds on its foundation of cutting-edge soundscapes, welcoming back several fan favorites from last year's well-attended event. Returning acts include Prescott's ethereal indietronica duo Dutch Holly, Tempe's esoteric beatmaker and sound sculptor ALLHAILPAN, Miami's own captivating glitch-hop chanteuse Courtney Odom, and the haunting, goth-positive electro duo, Gracklz who travel from Phoenix often to wow audiences in Miami and the surrounding area.

This year, the Microfest introduces an exciting lineup of talent new to Miami audiences. Attendees will be treated to performances by Phoenix's synth icon Jason Mysteria, Southwestern desert-psych bard, Mark Matos, experimental electronic artist, Gnawvy, and Tempe's distinct solo electro-indie creator Home Game.

"The first Synthesis Microfest proved that there is a vibrant and enthusiastic audience for experimental and original electronic music in the region," said Low Key Organic producer (and performer with Dutch Holly) Tres Ikner. "Synthesis Microfest II is our commitment to nurturing that scene, blending beloved acts with fresh, boundary-pushing voices for an unforgettable two-night experience."

As with Synthesis Microfest I, the event will feature free "Art/craftivity" facilitated by renown Tempe collage artist Erin Pulford (ECPCollages) whose face is familiar to many denizens of Miami as her likeness appears on Phil Freedom's mural in the Miami Artworks courtyard.

On Friday the 23rd, musical acts will begin around 7 PM and on Saturday the 24th, they will begin at 4PM. Thee 23 Skidoo suggests a donation of $10 during the event.
